

MAGMA

Magma is a complex high temperature fluid substance of a mixture of melted rock that is about to form new rock. Exposure of the energy arose from the magma implies the rebirth of the other beautiful rock. In order to make beautiful holds, Magma Holds does not only shape the surface or the design of the rock but also reinterprets the shapes with unlimited imagination. We want the holds to not only have functional performance, but also be an environmental design that embraces the surroundings. We have no doubt such a decorated wall could make climbers and spectators visually enjoy and appreciate the beauty of it.
